SPECIAL (NON-DEGREE) STUDENT APPLICATION 2017-2018

At Vanderbilt University School of Nursing, special students are those enrolled in one or more non-clinical courses who have not been admitted as a degree- or certificate-seeking student. A lifetime limit of 7 credit hours is permitted in this status. Successful completion of courses taken as a special student does not guarantee future admission to any degree or post-master's certificate program.

To be considered as a special student, an applicant must submit a completed application form with transcripts and the non-refundable application fee at least one week before the beginning of classes. Acceptance into a course is dependent upon availability of space and facilities after full-time and part-time degree- and certificate-seeking students have been registered.

Registration as a special student requires approval by the Registrar. All University and School of Nursing regulations, including the Honor System, apply to special students. Special students who seek admission as a degree- or certificate-seeking student must make application for admission following regular procedures. Special student status is not meant to imply or guarantee admission to the School of Nursing.

ABOUT COSTS

* Courses at Vanderbilt University School of Nursing are $1,454 per credit hour. Multiply $1,454 by the number of hours to compute the tuition charge.
* All special students must pay a one-time university transcript fee of $100. In addition, all students must pay a $3,253/year health insurance fee if unable to present evidence of personal insurance to the Office of Student Accounts. If you have your own health insurance, please refer to the Special Student Fact Sheet for details regarding health insurance fee waiver.
* Special students are not charged an activity fee or recreation center fee if they are registered for less than four (4) credit hours. Special students taking more than four semester hours in one semester will be charged an activity and recreation fee of $228.50 fee (fall and spring semesters) or $79 (summer semester). If a student lives more than 60 miles from Vanderbilt, this fee can be waived for the fall and spring semesters only. The waiver request can be found at http://www.vanderbilt.edu/recadmin/. No waivers are granted in the summer.
* Special students are not eligible for financial aid.
