You Have a New Assignment

Vanderbilt University needs you to train

Vanderbilt devotes considerable resources to assisting students in making intelligent choices regarding their own health and safety, as well as the health and safety of other students and the larger Vanderbilt community.

Among these are three mandatory online education programs designed to provide critical information about our community’s expectations. We request that you invest the time required to complete these three programs as outlined at the bottom of this email by Monday Aug 20, 2019.

In addition to the mandatory modules outlined below, Vanderbilt offers additional programs and resources to assist you during your time in our community. These resources include information about mental health and wellness, financial literacy, and campus safety. Please click here for more information about these programs and to review the module FAQs. If you experience any difficulty completing the modules, please contact doscompliance@vanderbilt.edu.
We thank you in advance for completing the online modules and look forward to having you join us.

Sincerely,

Mark Bandas
Associate Provost & Dean of Students

Technical information for completing the assigned modules:

- Work at your own pace from any computer or tablet
- Courses will save your progress if you need to stop and return later
- Courses are best supported by the latest versions of Chrome, Firefox, and Safari (preferred), or Microsoft Internet Explorer 11+
- If you have any accessibility issues, please select “accessibility mode” once you are in the course
- Need more help? Contact EVERFI’s 24/7 tech support using “Help” within the course or by visiting support.everfi.com

Assigned Content

- Diversity, Equity and Inclusion for Students
  Due Tuesday, August 20, 2019

- Sexual Assault Prevention for Graduate Students
  Due Tuesday, August 20, 2019

- Protecting Youth
  Due Tuesday, August 20, 2019
EVERFI partners with Vanderbilt University for critical skills learning.

If you have additional questions or need help, please visit us at https://support.everfi.com

© 2019 EVERFI